- Led UX for high-impact areas of a complex SaaS platform used by music teachers and studios, focusing on workflows that directly affect daily operations and revenue-related tasks.
- Identified usability friction and failure points using user research, support tickets, and behavioral insights (session recordings, rage clicks), translating findings into prioritized product improvements.
- Redesigned core workflows (Notifications, Sign Up, Booking, Agenda, Bulk Actions), reducing cognitive load and making frequent, time-sensitive tasks faster and safer to complete.
- Introduced risk-aware interaction patterns (warnings, confirmations, partial execution), reducing repeated user errors and increasing confidence in complex, high-impact actions.
- Established and evolved a shared design system in Figma, improving consistency across products and reducing design-development friction.
